We have a power wash scheduled for 4pm tomorrow, and the encampment (while offering us a fresh pavilions pastry!!) said no problem, they will just move across the street.

Pavilions, it might be good for you guys to schedule one tomorrow afternoon as well or they will just move to your side.

I also spoke to Daniel at Red, who is recovering from a motorcycle accident and has been a bit out of commission. He is still on top of the camp at Red Lot D.

We have planter boxes arriving this week which we plan to put throughout the neighborhood in probably locations to discourage set up.

This morning they were seen with a whole box of untouched food. I'm sure this is one of the main reasons they will not leave.

Pavilions: can you please investigate how/why this is happening, and how we can stop it? The previous idea of locking the dumpsters sounds like a good start.

We've expressed multiple times that we're prepared financially and time-wise to lend our efforts and improve the area.

RED STUDIOS- Would you all be open to planting succulents exactly like the photo attached on Waring (South Side of your building) between Cahuenga and Lillian? Thi our two buildings and figured it would be way nicer to have than the dead grass currently over there. We'd be happy to help get this done with a thumbs up from your tear PAVILIONS- Did we end up getting that really large tree trimmed down?

Did we end up moving forward on the rocks and the build of the colored planters as well? Happy to start in any way with those and putting them around our property.

Let's keep the push forward, it feels like everyone gets excited to do something and then nothing happens. LET'S GOOOOOOO!!!!

Hello everyone,

First, I wanted to thank everyone for taking the time to either call or come in to our studio for Friday's meeting. To Office Guerra, my sincere appreciation for your commitment to the public and our concerns, I feel privileged to have you working with us. To Shannon Geaney, thank you for your support of your team and Officer Guerra, he said many great things about your leadership.

For those on the conference call, I do apologize for the snafu for getting everything setup, we won't have that issue next time. If it was hard of hearing and you were not able to get all the details from Officer Guerra's report, basically LAPD cannot encroach on the 'property' of the homeless except for the scheduled monthly clean-up. They have their hands tied as far as solving this problem of homeless, it has been and will continue to be an ever present struggle for them. Power washing in his experience only cleans the area of excrement and filth making it better living conditions once the homeless decide to return. We, as neighboring businesses, have the ability to come together, to be creative and produce lasting deterrents from homeless encamping around our area.

Quixote has made their own planters (see attached pictures) and placed them outside of their business on the sidewalk where most homeless were residing. They made 12 for roughly $2000 total. These were filled with succulents and cacti, which John Vargas and fellow worker Mando mentioned made up the bulk of the total cost for the planters. Officer Guerra made it clear that this was still only a temporary fix though it would be better than power washing while pooling more resources to beautify the actual street (see attached picture).

What I am proposing is for us to start making these planters (with a slight design deviation from the ones pictured) and placing them in hot spots of homeless activity. Places where there is minimal foot traffic and vacant lots/buildings (south Waring and Lillian, near Pavilions). This will serve as a placeholder while we all aim for the in-street beautification. Officer Guerra and the Friday group saw this is an opportunity for creativity as well. We can erect works of art or community pieces that everyone can contribute to. Even with these planters, we can include volunteers to participate and get kids involved with the artwork that can revitalize our streets to look colorful and vibrant as well as push homeless away from our businesses.

RED Studios will be working closely with Quixote, Boys & Girls Club and Khaos Digital to make the beginning push in this initiative. We are reaching out to local nurseries and other friends in the community to help donate to our cause, if you have anyone who can contribute or donate, it may benefit them as a tax deduction! Once we have placed our planters/artwork/otherwise, we will update with pictures and a report on what worked and what did not. Now is the time we can show our neighborhood, our community and our city that we can make a difference if we band together as one, we can effect positive change.

Please, send ideas and ways to involve/attract more. On top of the constant communication via email and phone calls, I would like us all to meet again in about a month and a half (depending on schedules) to share all the progress we've made.

Sincerely,

Daniel

All,

I am on a scheduled day off tomorrow and usually to schedule a pressure was I'd like more than a days notice.

Also, Although Dan Halden is out sick today he was able to coordinate so resources regarding this new encampment. He submitted a request for sanitation to come out and help us. LAPD can come out and write citations and provide outreach. But as you can tell that only does so much and the problem does not go away. We have to wait for sanitation to come out and that usually takes a month.

Unfortunately we are in the displacement business. All the subjects at this location used to be on Cahuenga and Eleanor and the Gower corridor south of Santa Monica.

I am available Thursday and Friday to discuss ideas how to deter them from coming back to this location. Our efforts in these areas pushed them to this location.

I personally don't feel pressure washing helps and it hasn't worked in other areas. I also noticed the property is vacant (743), the location next to it under construction and the trees over grown and providing a lot of shade.

This issue is too sensitive to discuss over email, too many moving parts and we need the help from everyone. If you're available to meet Thursday or Friday please let me know.

My team is drafting a letter of intent to send out to local nurseries (or business of similar nature) to inquire about donations to help our community's cause and the public. Possibly a tax write off, could be beneficial for all parties. Just an idea of where we can all start our foods for thought.

Would love to have a community forum at everyone's convenience Daniel.

Hello Mike and fellow business community
members,

I am adding Melinda and Mark from Khoas Digital (located at the corner of Waring and Cahuenga, 6007) as Mark was present
while we spoke with Officer
Guerra, his supervisor
Shannon Geaney, and Deputy City Attorney Steve Houchin about a proposed plan about beautification with our community's streets.

Tomorrow, the city's sanitation trucks are coming to clean up the area on Waring just west of Cahuenga. Our studio is going to place cones, red and yellow caution tape to section off the space during the clean up. This is a temporary fix as we move forward with plans to gather the necessary materials and aesthetically improve that space while deterring more encampments from returning.

I would very much like (time and schedules permitting) to have a small, community forum in our diner with most (ideally all) surrounding businesses in attendance. We can discuss the plan to pool our resources together and help each other beautify a section of our streets at a time so we and the families that walk their kids to and from the Boys & Girls Club do not have to feel uneasy where we all work and/or live.

In the meantime, I will work with my management and with Melinda and Mark of Khaos Digital to come up with our options to begin the beautification of Waring and Cahuenga. Updates once work is complete will
